GEORGIA CITY IS
VISITED BY FIRE
LOSS 4 MILLIONSBusiness District Swept by Blaze Early Tuesday
This Morning.Gasoline Explosion Helps Rapid Spread of the Flames.

Athens, Ga., Jan. 25.—At 4 o'clock this morning damage from the fire which began about midnight swept through the downtown business district of Athens, was estimated at $4,000,000. At that hour it was believed the firemen had succeeded in checking the spread of the flames.

A large part of the downtown business district was a mass of smoldering ruins. No loss of life was reported. The fire, of undetermined origin broke out shortly before midnight and it was five hours later before the combined efforts of firemen from this and nearby cities succeeded in getting it under control. At its height the fire appeared as if it would wipe out the entire downtown section and it was then that calls for outside assistance were sent.

Rapid spread of the blaze was said to have been due to the explosion of gasoline drums in the Max Joseph building on Wall street, the lower floor of which was occupied by the Denny Motor company. This scattered the flames beyond control and the fire spread down the east side of Wall street, south to Broad, virtually destroying every building in its path.

The flames then leaped across to the west side of Wall street to the building occupied by Michael Brothers, wholesale and retail dry goods merchants. This structure, covering nearly a block, was destroyed. From there the fire spread to Jackson and Clayton streets, sweeping everything in its way, to College avenue.

Hundreds of persons, struggled to save their property from buildings threatened by the flames and the street adjoining the fire area were soon jammed with wagons, trucks and even wheelbarrows loaded with merchandise and furniture taken from stores and offices.

Adding to the confusion and difficulties was a weakened water pressure at the fire plugs but this soon was overcome when extra facilities at the reservoirs were brought into use. Finally, after more than 10 hours of battling the firemen managed to check the flames and hold them to the buildings already practically destroyed.

It was daylight, however, before the conflagration was safely under control.

Other firms in nearby buildings which suffered heavy losses from fire and water were the Charles S. Moschick company, dry goods and department store; Bescher company, clothing and haberdashers; C. S. IRVINE SENT TO MANSFIELD FOR
SLAYING FATHERState Accepts Plea of Guilty
To Manslaughter Charge
and Recommends Reformatory Sentence.

Angus Irvine, 23, was today given an indeterminate sentence to the Mansfield reformatory for slaying his father, former Probate Judge Walter A. Irvine, November 15.

Sentence was passed by Common Pleas Judge Thomas B. Fulton after Prosecuting Attorney Ralph Norpell recommended that Irvine's plea of guilty to manslaughter be accepted. Prosecutor Norpell told the court that the state would be satisfied with such a sentence.

Irvine was arraigned on the charge of first degree murder named in the indictment returned by the January grand jury. He pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Immediately thereafter, his attorneys, Fitzgerald, Montgomery and Black on behalf of the defendant, offered to plead guilty to a charge of manslaughter. Judge Fulton referred the matter to Prosecutor Norpell, who told the court that under the circumstances, he believed that the state's interests would best be served by accepting the plea. The court also asked the prosecution what penalty it would accept. Prosecutor Norpell said that the state would accept a reformatory sentence and this sentence was passed by the court.

GIRL'S BODY IS FOUND
FLOATING IN RIVER

Cincinnati, Jan. 25.—Police today are investigating the death of Miss Florence Stetler, 30 years old, whose body was found floating in the Ohio river near her home yesterday.

Following a postmortem examination Coroner D. C. Handley announced his belief that the girl's death was not due to drowning. He said that examination showed that the girl's lungs were entirely free from water, indicating that she had been lifeless when her body had been placed in the river. No trace of violence or bruises were discovered on the body and the coroner expressed the opinion that her death was due to either suffocation or to some poison which had left no outward trace of its presence.

The stomach has been turned over to a chemist for an analysis to determine whether it contains any traces of poison.

Miss Stetler disappeared on the morning of January 12 after she had left her home on Eastern avenue to go to a grocery a few doors away.

ALLIES FAIL TO AGREE ON PLAN
TO AID AUSTRIAReject Proposal to Turn Her Finances Over to League of Nations.Supreme Council Agrees to Name Commission to Act.

Paris, Jan. 25.—After rejecting today a proposal to turn the Austrian financial problem over to the league of nations, the allied supreme council decided to appoint a commission to make a thorough inquiry into the entire question of the economic situation in Europe with particular reference to Austria.

The council took this action in view of the opinion of the conferees that as the Austrian situation involved the entire European economic situation, it was advisable to have this situation thoroughly inquired into through the most competent representatives of the allied countries obtainable.

These representatives, it was decided will be Sir Robert Horne, president of the British board of trade; Louise Loucheur, French minister of liberated regions; Signor Giannini, the Italian economic expert and probably the ministers of commerce of other allied countries including Belgium.

The commission was appointed this forenoon. It was expected to meet before the day was over and expedite its work in order that definite decisions might be taken before the close of the conference here.

During the discussion in the council today the general opinion was developed that it was useless to try to do anything for Austria apart from the solution of economic problems of the neighboring countries, with which Austria's future is bound to be closely connected, and the suggestion from the Austrian section of the reparations committee for an advance to Austria of $25,000,000 yearly for 10 years, guaranteed by pledges on Austria's resources was not acted upon.

The tendency is, it appears to reject any proposition likely to involved increased taxation for France and Great Britain. The Italian view point is that Austria should not be allowed to bind herself to any particular country or group of countries through international arrangements. In connection with the other work of the council, it was reported this morning that the Italian government has sent a note to the council regarding Austria, which would be considered in connection with the Greek and Turkish questions.

Her body was discovered 300 yards from the camp, and at that time, Wilson said, four convicts were at work on the road.

The coroner, Dr. H. C. Winnes, assistant prosecutor pointed to the various locations involved in the murder mystery, and jurors and spectators craned their necks to follow, while Dr. Winnes sat with his family watching the proceedings as calmly as any in the court room.

MUST HAVE TARIFF TO CURTAIL EUROPE'S DEBT

Washington, Jan. 25.—Europe's debt to the United States will be increased to $20,000,000,000 by 1924, George F. Warren, professor of economics at Cornell University declared yesterday at tariff revision hearings by the house ways and means committee. This sum, he said, will include the $9,000,000,000 war time borrowings from the American treasury.

Mr. Warren estimated that European business now owed American firms nearly $4,000,000,000 and he said that Europe must send her products to this country irrespective of import duties. He especially urged tariffs on farm products which he said could be turned out cheaper overseas than they can here.

Giving it as his opinion that the rate of exchange would not improve for some time, the witness said the rate would tend to increase the European debt.

Members of the senate temperance committee conferred with Governor Davis and the bill is said to have met with his approval. The bill will come up for passage in the senate late today.

The house committee on public health, meeting this morning, took up the bill, established a state commission to license chiropractors, adjourned without action and will call a meeting later for a general public hearing on the bill initiated by petition at the request of the chiropractors.

JESS SAYS HE DOESN'T CARE FOR FIGHT COIN

New York, Jan. 25.—Beaming with smiles that radiated the confidence he expressed in his ability to "come back" Jess Willard, one time heavyweight boxing champion, began search today for training quarters for his prospective match here with Jack Dempsey on March 17.

A Kansas, who now tips the scales at 240 pounds arrived in town last night and had a lengthy conference with Tex Rickard, the promoter. He said he had been in light training for several weeks.

In a typical quiet drawl, Willard declared his defeat at the hands of Dempsey was an accident. "I'm satisfied I can beat him. I was unfortunate at Toledo. But you know setbacks come in the life of every man. For instance you can't name a ball player who plays year after year without making a fly ball now and then. I missed a high fly at Toledo."

Willard indulged in a guffaw that shook his sides when he was asked if he wanted to fight Dempsey in order to replenish his financial store. "I wish I Adkins will be buried beside a grave that holds the charred remains of his wife, children and uncle."

TURKS RUIN BIG TRACT IN CELICIA

Missionary at Adana Writes Of Desolation in That District.

Region Resembles Battle Front in France and Belgium.

New York, Jan. 25.—Constant fighting between the French forces of occupation and Turkish Nationalists has transformed the Celicia district of Asia Minor into an area of ruin and desolation resembling the devastated sections of northern France, declares Miss Elizabeth Webb, an American missionary and worker for the Near East Relief.

In a letter to the relief organization, Miss Webb tells of a trip from Adana, recently delivered from a siege of 14 weeks, to the town of Deir Yul, about 60 miles distant on the Mediterranean Sea. The trip was made on a French armored train.

"The Adana station itself was suggestive of the general situation with its barbed wire and sand bags," she wrote. "As we moved down the track we saw bent steel rails lying by the side of the new ones that had just been laid. Bridges that we passed over were new, repaired and village stations along the route were demolished. The ruins were surrounded by barbed wire entanglements and broken telegraph poles, festooned with tangled wire, witness to the events of the past few months. No human beings were in sight but the barbed wire entanglements were hung with carcasses, which, in the weeks of fighting that preceded my visit had been put up the defenders to prevent surprise attack, for one touch on the wire would set the whole row of cars jangling.

"In the four hours between Adana and Topyrak Kale, we saw only one human being outside the vicinity of these two places. This one exception was a Turk riding a forlorn looking horse, with a white rag hanging from a pole stuck upright in his back saddle. There were no wheat fields, no flowers, no cut wheat had been allowed to rot in the sun and rain.

"The difficulties in Deir Yul and Euzerli have greatly increased by the addition of about 3,000 Armenian refugees to the population. Most of the refugees abandoned their crops and houses that had been newly repaired with aid from the Near East Relief. We found them in a pitiful condition. Houses of two and three rooms were sheltering four or five families.

All empty houses, porches, storehouses and every inch of available space was filled with them. Some were sleeping on the bare ground with no covering.

"To meet the need in these two places, the Near East Relief has sent a cache of four 2,400 yards of cloth, flour mats, quinine and 1,750 blankets."

LEWIS-CADDOCK BOUT WAS ROUGH; LEWIS WINS

New York, Jan. 25.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis of San Jose, Cal., successfully defended his world's heavy-weight catch-as-catch-can wrestling title here last night by throwing Earl Caddock, a former champion, in one hour and thirty-four minutes. Lewis won with a combined head and hiplock.

The winning fall came as a dramatic climax to a most terrific match struggle. Caddock appeared to be the winner up to within one minute of the finish.

After an hour and a half of wrestling, Caddock gained a terribly punishing toe-hold, and for one minute and ten seconds he struggled to force Lewis' shoulders to the mat. The champion in his agony beat the floor with his fists and cried aloud, but his voice was drowned in the terrific uproar for Caddock of the 10,000 spectators.

Twice Referee George Bothner asked Lewis if he would quit, but twice he refused, although his face was distorted entirely out of human resemblance. With a last desperate effort he kicked himself free and staggering to his feet, leaped upon Caddock and three times clamped his famous deadly headlock around the Iowa's face.

On the second and third look Lewis picked up Caddock bodily and threw him to the floor, plunging his weight on top of the fast weakening challenger. The second crash left Caddock helpless and he collapsed as the referee slapped Lewis, the winner.

When Lewis rolled off Caddock the latter lay like a dead man on the floor. This drove the crowd to a frenzy. Cries of "Kill the murderer" went up and there was a concerted rush for the ring. Caddock's manager waived the excited fans back, and when Caddock was seen to recover and walk to his corner, danger of a riot quickly passed.

The Senior Y league dope bucket was upset Monday night when the Maple Avenue C. U. team defeated the First Methodist squad. This is the Maple Avenue's first victory but it has shown a steady improvement in playing and is always in every game to win.

The score saw-sawed during the entire contest and it was anybody's game up until the final whistle blew. Forward Donaldson and Center Vandenberg were big factors in their teams' win. Each of these men made four foul field goals. Loudin was the most consistent point getter for the Methodists.

One of the prettiest field goals of the season was made by Captain Mayer of the N. B. C. squad, as the ball traveled the length of the floor in a nice arch and never touched the ring.

CHINA TO HAVE NEW CURRENCY

American Mint Expert Is "Loaned" To China To Help Orientals.

New Money To Take Place of Nondescript Currency In Circulation.

Shanghai, Jan. 25.—The first step in an effort toward uniformity in Chinese currency will be undertaken by the building here of China's first national mint. The work will be directed by an American mint expert, Clifford Hewitt of Philadelphia, whose services have been loaned to China by the United States and who came here a short time ago to begin his duties. Mr. Hewitt installed the new mint at Manila, the first established in the Philippines.

It is expected that the completion of the new Chinese mint will put an end to the conglomerate system of currency of all kinds and values which has long been a drag on the commercial progress of China.

While the Mexican dollar, introduced into China from the Philippines, has come to be the common unit of value, the various tuchuns, governors and other officials of provinces have issued coins that are dealt with commercially at values based on the quantity of their silver content. The Chinese tael, in which government funds and customs ordinarily are reckoned, is not a coin at all, but a silver slug of a given weight and fineness, differing in weight and value in the different provinces.

The Shanghai mint is to cost about $2,000,000 and be one of the largest in the world, rivaling in size and output the mint at Philadelphia. It is to have a capacity of 500,000 silver dollars a day with a daily consumption of 14 tons of silver in addition to base metal and used as alloys. Mr. Hewitt hopes to have the plant completed and in operation within two years.

He is the originator of many of the machines and processes in use in American mints, having been in the service of the United States government for 24 years. He was builder of the American mints at Denver and Philadelphia.

Y BOYS HOLD PARTY AS TAG DAY CLIMAX

As a fitting follow-up for the success of the tag day put on recently by the boys of the Y. M. C. A., the party took place at the Y last night. Secretary Dozon and Secretary and Mrs. Griener.

The very early evening was spent in playing the games in the boys' rooms, such as bowling and billiards. After this a program of stunts took place in Taylor hall by the teams that took part in the tag day. It was difficult to judge the most laughable number on this informal program. Every team stunt was well received and no two alike. The Ethiopian number was unique and drew a big hand as well as did the ventriloquist stunt.

Individual awards were made to those securing the most cash during tag day. Miss Reese totaled highest among the girls and received a year saving stamp. Miss Huth, Miss Richards and Miss Dwyer were awarded Thrift stamps. Ed McFarland landed first prize among the boys and won a year's membership in the Y.

Punch and wafers were served.

SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenswood, W. Va.—"For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble and inflammation so that I was not able to do my housework. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own housework. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA LIERING, R. F. D., Ravenswood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sweeping, dusting and caring for little ones. How much harder the tasks when some derangement of the system causes headaches, backaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness. Every such woman should profit by Mrs. Liering's experience. Remember this, for over forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring health.

OAKOAL STOCK

Increases In Value

The stock of the TORONTO OAKOAL CO. HAS DOUBLED its value.

In a few months, just a few short months, our OAKOAL PLANT will be in operation in Newark. This means profits; and consequently big dividend checks to those lucky ones who bought our OAKOAL stock. Just picture yourself receiving regularly these dividend checks and the improvement and good effect they will have on your life. Can you afford to stay back and lose what many others will get?

OAKOAL STOCK SELLING FAST

Our small issue of stock is selling fast. Everyone recognizes its great value as an investment. Your opportunity to buy it and be among those who will make a fortune from OAKOAL is right now, and not later on.

It takes nerve to make money! Have you got the nerve? Have you got the courage to decide for yourself as hundreds of others have done and make your fortune from OAKOAL?

YOUR OWN JUDGMENT IS YOUR BEST FRIEND

Chauncey M. Depew was offered in 1898 one-sixth of the Bell Telephone Company's stock for Ten Thousand Dollars. He believed in the investment, but did not have the courage to decide for himself. He thought he had better seek the advice of a friend of his, a telegraph engineer, who was supposed to be the most expert telegraphic engineer in the country. This man said to him: "It is a commercial toy; it is a fake; drop it." And now Mr. Depew says: "Had I acted as my better judgment told me to do, I would have bought stock then that would have made me now a hundred millionaire. A fortune was lost to me because I depended on the judgment of others."

Can you decide for yourself? It means the making of your fortune if you can. A few hundred dollars invested in OAKOAL will start you on the road to success.

LOVE IS REFLECTED IN LOVE.
-Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. -1 John 4:7.

INCOME TAX RETURNS.

The time for the annual struggle income tax returns has now come, and for people whose business it at all complicated it is a bothersome task. It is made worse by the remoteness of the federal government, and the fact that if errors are made, it may be difficult or tedious to get them corrected. Everything possible ought to be done to simplify the law, so that most people could make out their returns without having to hunt up a federal deputy to get the law interpreted. But while the job of getting out these returns may be an unenviable one, everyone should see the necessity of making a fair and honest report. The man who tries to cheat Uncle Sam by unfairly manipulating his income figures, is just about the same type as the slacker who dodges the draft. He is not willing to take up his end of the load of government, and he shifts off part of it to people who may be less well able than he to carry the load.

Burdensome as the tax bill may seem, it is hard to see how the country could have got by the war without this kind of tax and a heavy one. Otherwise a much greater debt would have had to be incurred, at still higher rates of interest.

The tax is heavy on people of large wealth, and a lighter assessment would have less effect to discourage enterprise. But the wealthy people are able to pay it without suffering, and they still can live in luxury. They can be thankful for a government that has protected their fortunes through a world convulsion, and they should pay their assessments smilingly.

Also let the little fellow with an income just over the margin, come across with his little assessment with a cheerful good nature. He ought to be thankful that he earns enough to come within the tax paying class.

NARROW ROADS.

In the early days of the good roads movement, there was a strong tendency to build narrow roads. It was figured that you could build a 12-foot road 50 per cent further than you could an 18 foot track. Except when you have to turn out, the narrow road was claimed to be just as good.

But it is? In some localities a good many miles of brick road only nine feet wide have been laid. Consequently the traffic was forced to take the center of the street, and wheel tracks have been created. On some roads there will be ruts two or three inches deep. Also on a narrow road, cars must constantly turn out with one wheel on earth surface. When the wheels pass on and of this hard paving, the shoulder is torn out, and soon the road keeps narrowing up.

A wider road distributes the traffic evenly, so that it lasts longer. In most cases in the state of Ohio a street with traffic enough to pay for hard paving, has traffic enough for a fairly wide roadway. One of 18 feet will last much longer than one of 16 to 14.

BLAMING STEERING GEAR.

Reports of automobile accidents are apt to state that the trouble was due to the steering gear becoming unmanageable. The frequency with which this cause is alleged, leads many people to get worried about the steering apparatus on their cars. They often take their machines to the garage, to see if this mechanism is all right.

A garage man to whom a car was taken the other day, remarked to the owner, that the trouble in most of these cases of accident, was not the wheel, but the man behind it. In the majority of cases it is fast driving and in some it is liquor. The man who drives prudently does not often find that his steering wheel takes occasion of the most critical moment to go bad all at once.

HUMAN WASTE.

If all the waste of the human body were saved and returned to the soil, it would provide plant food enough to feed everybody. But the human race is prodigal in use of resources. It throws vast amounts of sewage into the rivers, whence it is carried out to sea. Also a vast amount of vegetable matter is wasted in the form of garbage. Many people here in Newark burn it in stoves or allow it to decay in the open air. A great many mix such matters with ashes, broken glass, tin cans, etc., so that no one can buy it to feed to domestic animals, and the material is wasted.

The average yield of winter wheat is 16 bushels per acre, which is too low. If human waste could be better utilized, fertilizer would be more abundant, crops could be increased and food costs would come down.

Also the careless disposition of decaying vegetables and animal matter is the principal cause of disease. Human beings have been given a wonderful power to inhabit, but they have not half learned how to keep house in it.

If some merchants worried about the big city and mail order competition a little less, and would use a little more advertising methods that boom the big city and mail order store business, they would come out better.

President-elect Harding has just gone south. He'll find the climate quite warm in Washington when the office seeks to begin to ring the White House door bell.

Claimed that a lot of the government clerks are leaving but if they tried to do any work they might get government business all mixed up.

If you visit the big cities, you can get some splendid bargains, consisting of $30.00 suits marked down from $75.00 to $45.00.

A Hasty Diagnosis.

Aunt Caline says—Ole Still's son, Otto B., has come into a little money, threw his gran'ma having died an' left it to him. About one o' the first things he done was to go up to New York an' buy him a car. He's had a turrible time a-learning to run it, an' it did seem for a time as though we wouldn't have nary a dog nor a cat nor a chicken nor even a human bean left alive in this here town. Yesterday I were a-setting by the window an' I seen Otto a-weaving his way down the street an' jest as he got front o' the house he run rite spang into Doc Curvins' otto. Doc were as mad as a wet hen an' he lit into Otto something turrible. Says he, "You can't drive a car," says Doc. "Why do you try?" he says. "Well, Doc," says Otto, "I got chains on the dang thing an' I thought, says he, axident proof." he says. "She may be axident proof," says Doc, "but she sure ain't fool proof," he says.

BORROWED HUSBANDS
By MILDRED K. BARBOUR

XIV.—"Langwell, Dr. Frederick Barton."

Unlike the night following Gerry's first departure, when Connie Stanley had given her faithful dinner party, Nancy faced a lonely evening. She walked about the little sitting room restlessly, picked up the book which had caused all the trouble, and tossed it aside with a grimace. She turned the leaves of the evening paper to the theatrical page, half determined to go to a play, but many of the theaters were running shows she had already seen in New York, and the others did not appeal to her taste. She sat down in the big arm chair before the empty hearth, and stared at the gas logs which were not meant to be lit. Outside the rain fell on the Chicago world came up to her, the rumbling whirling motors, the shrill whistle of the traffic policeman on the corner, shuffling feet on the sidewalk, a woman's laugh, the famous song, "All Dressed Up And No Place To Go," floated through her memory and brought a very smile as she looked at the woman in the mirror. Her thoughts turned to Gerry speeding through the night. "What was he doing? What was he thinking? Was he lonely too, facing the dreary stretch of months beyond the outposts of civilization?" But for that she could care he would have been with her tonight. She pulled her thoughts up sharply. She was too angry yet to feel sorry for Gerry. If he were here he had brought it on himself. But he need not have sentenced her to do a night's errand in this dreary town, when she might have been elegantly diverted at home with the Stanleys and the Bevo Lewis and Ma and Desmond. She resolved to leave Chicago on the train in the morning. She would call up and find what reservations were available. Would her train be listed under "Lakeshore" or "New York Central," she wondered? She picked up the heavy telephone receiver and Eric smiled whimsically as she directed the slim white fingers through the GAINED 60 POUNDS IN A FEW WEEKS

Cough was getting the best of him but he got rid of it quickly.

"I had a chronic cough for a long time, in fact it was getting the best of me. I could not find anything that would do me any good. A friend recommended MILK'S Emulsion. The third bottle cured the cough completely, made me healthy and well and I feel like a new man. Before taking your Emulsion I was down to 125 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds. It doesn't seem possible that 3 bottles of medicine would cause a man to gain 60 pounds but it is a fact."—Wm. Gilton, R.F.D., No. 4, Chucky, Tenn.

Mr. Gilton was fortunate in commencing to use MILK'S Emulsion when he did. A run-down system invites disease. MILK'S Emulsion costs nothing to try.

MILK'S Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a restorative medicine. It restores healthy natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, MILK'S Emulsion is strongly recommended by those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try MILK'S Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price, 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The MILK'S Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups, and saves about 80%.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gives relief at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It soothes the inflamed, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

"FIREBRAND TREVISON"
DUE WITH BUCK JONES
 This is the kind of shooting they do in "Firebrand Trevison," the new Fox production starring Buck Jones, and based on the Charles Alden Seltzer story—which comes to the Alhambra theater today.

John Grier, owner of the great Acacia ranch of 35,000 acres in California where most of the exterior of the picture were taken, had arranged to plant with the some acres surrounding a little lake some wild ducks meant for the picture. He said he would not let any one else do it during the season, but he did not know how he could prevent poachers shooting them on his property.

"I've got a rifle but I can't shoot straight enough to make any one of it half mile from the house," said Slim Pallett, who was now and then how he could prevent poachers shooting them on his property.

THE GIRL WITH A THOUSAND FACES

Miss Gay MacLaren.

Miss Gay MacLaren is said to be a remarkable dramatic artist. She is able to impersonate every character she sees on the stage, reproducing the facial expressions and mannerisms of all the leading actors and actresses in the country. She impersonates all the characters in some thirty plays. It is said of her that after attending a given play four or five times she can imitate all the actors and actresses in it, giving an entire production alone.

MAGNES—What part have I most enjoyed playing in pictures? An old question, and a hard one. I have been so many different things the last year or so that I can never think of any one part better than all the others. As a rule I like scenes of general festivity and pretty clothes better than the gloomy cellars and rags, but even that is qualified by what opportunity there is for acting in each role.

The picture that has just been shown, "Away Goes Prudence," has plenty of variety—laundry women's kitchens and gangsters' dens and drawing rooms and aeroplanes and medieval scenes all in the course of a few short hours. The Misleading Widow, too, was a part I liked, though I have often wondered what the friends of the more sober "Billeted" thought of the liberties we had to take with the original piece as they watched us dashing in and out of bedrooms, hiding men in closets and waking up in negligees. But each part has its own advantages and disadvantages.

I have just done "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson" and for some time we enjoyed ourselves in attractive settings, teas at the Ritz, carnivals in Paris and such things, but there are drawbacks even to society comedies. One day we were out horse-back riding for four hours, looking for the sun. Mr. Dillon, who was my director, used to ride race horses once upon a time, so he was the only one of the party who did not ache all over with weariness. The sun never did oblige, though by the time we turned to go home someone remarked the moon seemed to be willing.

Then there has been a green dress that was slipped on carelessly in one scene and seems to have found occasions to appear every day since. You may like it if you see it on the screen but constant familiarity has bred worse than contempt; I hope never to see it again. I have always wanted a little place under the sub-titles for announcements of my own, but I am afraid I shant be able to arrange for it in time to let Mrs. Johnson say: "Excuse this dress. I hate it too."

In spite of all that, I think I am going to like "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson" as well as any part I have had, though I can never tell till I see the final results on the screen and find out if the electrician and the camera man have done their worst. Careful acting, pretty gowns, attractive settings, excellent directors all are as nothing if someone has provided a lighting which gives one an expression of peculiar hideousness. I am particularly unfortunate in this respect in having reddish hair that at the most unexpected times photographs black with chameleon-like results far from flattering. It means such extreme care to light it correctly that out of pity for the camera man I have often been tempted to go around in a white wig that could make no such mistakes.

This has not told you much about the part I like playing best, but as I say, I can't think of any one particular favorite—and any answer more definite might not be true before I have seen Mrs. Johnson.

WELSH ENTERTAINERS ORGANIZED YEARS AGO

The fame of the Welsh Choral singing became world-wide, when in the year 1872 a mixed choir constituting Welsh village-folks under the leadership of Chas. G. Jones (Gareth Jones), won the Crystal Palace company's $5,500 challenge trophy and a cash prize of $100. This fame was enhanced in the following year when the same choir, under the same leader again won the trophy beating the London choir known then as the "Paris Prize" choir under the leadership of Mr. Proudmans. The choir and daughters (especially the sons) of the choir have ever since maintained the standard set and established the Crystal Palace victories. Americans were first thrilled by these remarkable singers from the land of song as early as 1893 when at the World's fair, Chicago, they won first prize in a competition open to the world.

Of all Welsh musical organizations, the Mountain Ash Male chorus, as first and foremost, not only to maintain the fame but to set a standard to Welsh and all other choral singing, and this has never been excelled. The visits of this chorus to America is by no means a new and untried venture. These visits are now a matter of history. As a proof that the Mountain Ash Male chorus stands—and sings—before the world today as the unsurpassed organization of its kind, and incidentally as the standard bearer through all lands of the superiority of the Welsh as a nation of singers would be a difficult task to analyze, however this fact may be easily and pleasantly realized by going to hear the chorus sing at New York on February 23.

Children need a certain amount of sweets in their system and it is much better to see that this is supplied at home and with home made candy than to trust to the candy that is bought at the candy shops. Besides all this children love to make candy and they are allowed to do so it adds to their pleasure. The following is a recipe for making lollypops. The children can make these if they are first shown how to do it.

Mix a cup of sugar, half a cup of vinegar and water and boil together until it hardens when dropped on cold water. Take it from the fire and add a tablespoon of butter and mix flatter than you wish. Pour into a buttered pan and while cooling keep turning the edges in towards the center and start to pull as soon as you can handle it. Pull in a piece about two inches thick. Then cut off pieces and put a stick in each piece and form into shape with the hands. Work quick and keep it just warm while working.

SAY JAP TROOPS SLAY MANY AND BURN VILLAGES

Canadian Missionaries Say 32 Villages Are Totally Destroyed.

Japs Declare Measures Were Taken Because of Outlawry.

Tokio, Jan. 25.—Details of alleged massacres of Koreans by Japanese troops, the burning of Korean villages and the destruction of native crops are given in statements received from Canadian missionaries in the Chinese district of China, supplementing previous reports on this subject heretofore received.

One of the missionaries, Dr. S. H. Martin, of New Foundland, a physician attached to the Canadian Presbyterian mission at Yonglung, who visited the village of Nongwile, on October 21, two days after the Japanese went through that district, states:

"The facts recorded below apply to the whole district of Kando or Chientao, in the southern part of the province of Kichin, China, under the strongest protest from China, has sent over 15,000 men into this part of China with the seeming intention of wiping out of existence, if possible, the whole Christian community, especially all young men. Villages after villages are being methodically burned and the young men shot, so that at present we have a ring of villages surrounding this city that have suffered from the Japanese murder or have been burned. The facts below are absolutely accurate."

"At daybreak a complete cordon of Japanese infantry surrounded the main Christian village of Nongwile and, starting from the top of the valley, set fire to the immense stacks of unthreshed millet barley and straw and then ordered the occupants of the house outside. In each case as the father or son stepped forth, he was shot on sight, and as he fell his face and body were half-burned. Piles of burning straw were thrown on top of him."

"I was shown the blood marks on the ground caused by the bayonets thrust into the men as they strove to rise from the flames, in spite of the fact that they had been shot three times at close range. The bodies were soon charred beyond recognition. The mothers wailed and even the children were forced spectators of this treatment of all the grown males of the village. Houses were fired and soon the whole country was full of smoke which was plainly visible from this town. The Japanese soldiers then moved out and burned the houses of Christian believers in other villages all the way down the valley to the main road. Then they returned home to celebrate the emperor's birthday."

"We approached the next village and found only women and children and some white-haired men. The women with young babies on their backs were walking up and down wailing."

"I photographed ruins of 19 buildings, among which were old men tearing their hair and crying while mothers and daughters were recovering bodies or unburned treasure from the burning ruins. So many women were crying and I was so angry at what I had seen that I could not hold my camera steady enough to take a time exposure."

"We have names and accurate reports of 22 villages where murder and fire have been used. One village has had as many as 145 inhabitants killed. Houses have been burned with women and children in them. At Sonnung, 14 were stood up in front of a large grave, then shot and their bodies destroyed with burning wood and oil. This is typical."

The Rev. W. H. Foote, Canadian Presbyterian missionary at Yonglung, names several villages in which the houses, schools or churches of Christian natives were burned and says that in one of them 25 people were shot and the bodies burned. Those cases he declares are "absolutely authentic," the premises having been inspected by four missionaries and a customs official. Quoting Koreans as his authority, he says that 23 persons were shot and seven burned to death in their own houses at Chenz Sun; that 80 were shot at Yin Tong Ju and that these were all Christian villages.

"The soldiers and commanding officer who go to these places," asserted Mr. Foote, "as a general thing have no business, their only object being to burn their devilish deeds and pass on. Ku Sei Tong is the only place where any reason was given to the people at all for the action. A Korean accompanied the soldiers and told the people that the officer said he had evidence that the owner of the house had collected money for Korean patriotic purposes. If only the offenders suffered, even the Koreans would not seriously object, but it is because the perfectly innocent and helpless are done to death without even an opportunity to save a word in their own behalf that the injustice and hardship appears."

Describing the action of the Japanese soldiers at Kan Chang, Rev. Mr. Foote said that the young men of that village were "herded in front of a Korean house and without even a form of examination, shot down, 25 in all. Then the bodies were heaped together in two piles and covered with wood and burned. While the fuel was being placed on them, some of the wounded still were able to rise but were bayoneted to the ground and met their fate in the flames."

"I know these people well," Mr. Foote continued. "They live in an out-of-the-way glen. The land was not fertile and firewood is scarce. They were a quiet, hard-working people who struggled hard to make a living. Their children went to school, their Bible and hymn books, their Sunday worship, and above all, their Savior, were their joy. They were not patriotic soldiers and disapproved of the church taking part in politics."

Miss Emma M. Palethorpe of Ontario, a member of the Canadian Presbyterian mission at Yonglung, tells in her statement of the execution of five men from the village of Suchung who, she says, were led by the Japanese soldiers to the top of a hill about three miles from Yonglung and there put to death.

"In the top of the hill," she declares, "there is quite a large hollow where the victims were made to sit at the bottom of this, where they were clashed at with swords. It is reported by an eye witness that two swords were broken and then the work was finished with bayonets. Then the loose earth was pulled down from the sides of the hollow to cover the mutilated bodies."

In answering inquiries at the Japanese war office, Lieutenant Colonel Hata told the Associated Press correspondent that the number of Japanese troops employed in the Chientao district was 5,000, not 15,000. Villages had been burned, he said, but only in cases where the majority of inhabitants were known to be in league with the outlaws.

Referring to the charge that an organized attempt was made "to wipe out the whole Christian community," Colonel Hata said that it was possible that a majority of those who had been executed were of Christians, but they were not punished for their religion but for banditry and rebellion. No charge was made against the missionaries.

Colonel Hata, while admitting that harsh measures had been adopted, said that conditions had existed in that district for a long time, owing to the unchecked activities of Chinese bandits, Korean outlaws and Russian Bolsheviks. He said he was confident that the Japanese soldiers had not been guilty of the barbarities with which they had been charged.

CONDITIONS NEARING NORMAL DECLARES ST. LOUIS CONFERENCE

Deflation is practically at an end. Conditions are nearing normal. In many industries such as the clothing and men's furnishings goods there are evidences that for the time being the conditions may be sub-normal—that prices now offered by retail clothiers and furnisiers in many cases are lower than will prevail on the goods bought for later delivery.

And because of this situation and the richness of the country at large, the shortage of stocks in many fields, such as railroad supplies, building, food materials, and so forth, the time is ripe NOW for a prosperity drive that will banish the psychological depression that remains and will bring us back to staple business and employment speedily.

These were the chief thoughts developed at the Mid-Winter Conference of the National Association of Retail Clothiers at St. Louis last week as told by George Hermann, president of the Ohio Retail Clothiers and Furnisiers association who has just returned from the conference.

"There is no question," said Mr. Hermann, "what the present picture for clothing and furnishing goods are the results of a landslide—fastest of stamping at that level justified by existing production and wages. They carried out lower extremes, but they are the result of a revision in production and wages in the coming months we may find an increase in retail prices."

"There must be an increase of production and an increase of wages. Factoring costs before prices can be permanently held at their present levels. That the country is ripe for a prosperity drive is shown by the facts. Prices on many commodities are ahead. Cotton is down to pre-war levels. Building construction long delayed by the war, must soon resume. Railroad supplies are far below requirements. There are 12,000 tons of rail alone required by the roads. There will be a huge program started soon for the construction of highways. Crops are big. Copper stocks are low. Retail lumber yards are empty. On each side you find the signs that prosperity will resume just as soon as we begin to believe it and start to work for it."

"A revision of taxes," continued Mr. Hermann, "must come. The tax legislation of 1918 was perhaps the worst we could have had insofar as its effects on business were concerned."

"And there should, also, be a universally understood program for the resumption of buying. This was clearly pointed out at the conference. If the consumer is to buy, the retailer ceases his purchases. That forces the manufacturer to stop and curtails the mills—and eventually ends up with vast numbers of unemployed with a loss of an opportunity instead of a means toward continued staple prosperity."

"It's time to buy and sell—to get back to a staple business—time for us all to awaken to the fact that prosperity is here for all—if we will get out and hustle for it."

BRITISH SOLDIER TO SCALE PEAK

Mt. Everest, Highest of Himalayan Mountains,
Will Be Objective.

Summit, 29,000 Feet High,
Has Never Been Reached By Man.

New York, Jan. 25.—Mt. Everest, the Himalayan peak called "the roof of the world," which Sir Francis Younghusband, the British soldier-explorer, will attempt to climb next summer, has never yet been scaled by man.

Towering above the frontiers of the hitherto forbidden land of Tibet, and the remote province of Nepal, India, another land of mystery, the difficulties in even approaching Mt. Everest have been sufficient to baffie explorers. The world's highest peak lies in Tibet north of the British Indian border, yet, so far as known, no European has ever approached nearer than 69 miles from its base and few travelers have ever seen its upper slopes. The attempts which have been made to ascend some of Mt. Everest's sister peaks of the Himalayas have usually been made through Nepal because access to them through Tibet was not open. The approach to Mt. Everest through Tibet is said to be more accessible and present greater prospects of success than from the Nepal side.

Sir Francis Younghusband, announced that the Tibetan government had granted him permission to attempt the ascent of the mountain by the Tibetan route. It was Sir Francis, who as colonel commanding a British mission to the Forbidden City of Peking in 1902, opened Tibet to civil trade.

Mr. Everest named for Sir George Everest, famous British surveyor general of India, is the highest known mountain in the world. Its trigonometrical altitude is 29,002 feet; its snow-capped height is 29,341 feet. The next known highest of the Himalayas peaks are Kanchenjunga, 28,256 feet and K2 or Godwin Peak, whose alitude is 28,191 feet.

The intrepid Duke of the Abruzzi, who reached the top of Mt. St. Elias in 1908 and who at one time held the record of "fastest" in Arctic exploration, tried to climb K2 or Godwin Peak, in 1909, but failed because from whatever point of the compass he advanced he could find no way up to attain the summit. At 24,600 feet he and his companions were in good physical condition, although the ascent was slow and laborious. A thick mist warned them that to go on "would have been madness." This achievement of the Italian explorer, however, is the world's record for mountain climbing. The peak is in the Karakoram Himalayas. Besides it and its two higher sister peaks, there are in the Himalayas no less than 75 peaks above 24,000 feet, 48 above 25,000 feet, 18 above 26,000 feet and five above 27,000 feet.

Mountain climbing is one of the most ancient as well as fascinating forms of adventure. Its chief dangers are avalanches, landslides, falling rocks, blizzards, falling ice, falls from precipices or into crevasses, falls from ice slopes or down snow slopes.

Sir Francis' announcement of his intention to attempt this mountain climbing feat recalls the exploits of two American women—Mrs. Fannie D. Workman and Miss Annie S. Peck—and their conquest of some of the highest peaks in Asia and South America. Mrs. Workman in 1899, 1903, 1906 and 1908 made ascents in the Himalayas, including one of the Sun Kun peaks, whose summit is 23,300 feet high, or more than half a mile above the apex of that forbidding sentinel of the Alaskan sierras, Mt. McKinley. Miss Peck in 1908 negotiated the top of Mt. Huascan in the Peruvian Andes, a height of 21,812 feet and three years later she climbed the two peaks of the volcano Coropuna.

Some of the notable mountain climbing peaks of history and the year in which the peaks of the various mountains were attained follow:

1744—the Tiblis, the first true snow-mountain; 1786, Mt. Blanc's summit reached for first time; 1811, the Jungfrau; 1812 the Finsteraarhorn; 1813, the Zermatt Breithorn; 1820, Pike's Peak; 1824, the Wetterhorn; 1855, the Monte Rosa; 1865, the Matterhorn; 1879, Chimborazo; 1883, the Cordillera; 1888, the Selkirk; 1887, Aconcagua; 1898, the Bolivian Andes; 1899, Slickhorn in the Himalayas; 1909, Mt. Ruwenzori. There have been no prominent achievements by explorers since the last named date.

Readers' Viewpoint

"WHAT OF THE MOUNTAINS?"
Editor Advocate—Recently I rode over the Pennsylvania railroad from Washington to Pittsburgh. On this trip I several times had occasion to think of the lecture of Bishop Quale in the First M. E. church, Newark, on "Seeing America," and his frequent exclamation, "What of the Mountains?"

"What of the Mountains?"
From Washington to Baltimore agriculturally and industrially speaking the country is almost a barren waste.
The question arises, why, in the midst of a great consuming population should not the land be producing food. From the car window the soil at some places seems sandy and at others of a clayey nature. The land is comparatively level. We begin to think of lack of limestone when we come to places where limestone has been dug out and burned though the hills now seem idle.

On leaving Baltimore the country seems more rolling and the soil more fertile than just out of Washington.
There are many beautiful country homes to be seen.

We begin the climb and come to York, Pa., a thriving manufacturing city. The country about is rolling. The wheat looks good and I noted quite a little winter plowing had been done. I wondered that such rolling land could be plowed in winter without washing but I could note no bad gullies in the fields, the soil must be sufficiently porous to let the rain percolate quickly through instead of running off over the surface.

We also noted a number of thrifty apple orchards and remembered that the York Imperial apple originated here. I take it the York apple is of better quality grown in its native place than when grown in Licking county.

Leaving Harrisburg we noted the river was wide but not deep, with quite a fall. I thought, "what is its future?" It probably will never be "navigable for boats," but I wondered if someday stone would not be taken out of the mountains and piled across the river, making dams where power would be generated.

The stone in the mountains seems mostly sand although occasionally we would notice that limestone had been quarried out. In several places we noticed where the sandstone was being pulverized, and one place a sign read,
"Crystall Pulverized Sand." I suppose that this was for making glass. I noticed a mountain town a lady got in the train and sat in the seat with me. I asked what they used the sand for and she replied, "In my town they make bricks, burning it into beautiful white bricks."

For some distance out of Harrisburg
my seatmate was a landscape gardener from Pittsburgh. Passing a rough, rugged place where the stone was piled up in a great "muss" I said,
"could you pile up 'stuff' like that?"
He replied, "I would hate to undertake leveling that down. Our principal business about Pittsburgh is to level down the hills and fill up the hollows."

Fire has devastated the forests until there is very little timber of value on the mountain sides. I noted along the river, I presume with the idea of preventing the river from washing out the tracks, that the Pennsylvania Railroad company has planted trees, mostly locust.

We did not note much signs of coal until near Altoona. Soon after leaving Altoona we began the descent of the western slope of the mountains.

Near Johnstown the mountains seem perfectly nude, no trees or vegetation of any kind. But there must be something inside the mountains for at Johnstown are great furnaces glowing with heat turning out iron products.
But what a dirty place in which to live. Have these people any conception of the elegancies and deencies of the life? I saw children playing in the filthy streets. I wondered what kind of ideals they would have when grown up.

The mountains are magnificent and grand viewed at close range, but they look best to me when a mile of farming country would intervene between the railroad and the mountain. I could then catch the idea of a "back ground."

The building of the railroad through and over the mountains was a marvelous piece of engineering skill, and the maintaining of the road, the neat attractive depots with their "big" and sometimes it is so small but of landscape gardening reflects great credit on the management. I would occasionally gladly contribute my "bit", fare, towards its upkeep.

CARY W. MONTGOMERY
Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

The Thrifty Ohio Farmer.

Editor Advocate:
The press has contained numerous articles pertaining to the unfortunate farmers financial condition. The writer has been among the farmers quite often during the past 30 days and finds that they are not so unfortunate. If you care to use the enclosed and it will cause some farmer friend to "cheer up"
I will feel that my efforts were not in vain.

I was engaged in the grain and feed business some years ago when corn was selling at 20 cents per bushel, oats 16 cents, wheat 50 cents, hogs $3 per moved to the city where they could find a hard row to hoe, quite a number went. The farmer in debt at that time in the country could not get any and fortunate find work and earn a living time have changed. During the past five years the Licking county farmer has prospered. Many are out of debt. The war which caused so much corn and feed, and caused prices of farm products, nature was kind.
Bountiful crops were harvested and sold at good prices. In the oil and gas districts land was leased. If oil was found, the easy money that came to him was used to buy more land and improve his farm. Thousands of dollars worth of government securities were purchased by patriotic Licking county vices to the government and sailed for foreign shores. Some of them never returned and were buried in unmarked graves across the ocean. The government has been kind to the farmers.
The daily papers are delivered to his door and can be read in peace for all is quiet. No one to disturb him and he does not worry, for he knows if hard times come, he can at least make a living from the land. The farmer is a work in the early morning while his city friends sleep. Long hours of labor are a pleasure to him for his health is good and his work is interesting and important. His live stock are friends, his collie dog intelligent and would give his life to protect his master. The kittens that live in the barn, are fat and sleek, they are fed with warm milk fresh from the cows. The farmers work is interesting and he would not trade places with city friends. He can eat twice as much as the city man and his table is always bountifully supplied.
His wife and daughters can teach some of the city chefs to cook. His callers are abundantly supplied with fruits and vegetables. The pork barrel is filled with choice juicy meats, hams and shoulder hang in the smokehouse, and the breakfast bacon that he cures is not for sale. If he goes to visit a neighbor in the evening he does not hear the command "hands up" so fami-lar to the city man. The thugs know his best to keep out of his way. In the early morning with lantern in hand he steps out the kitchen door, and fills his lungs with good pure air, no fumes of burned gasoline, nor odors from the filthy city street annoy him. He whistles or sings while attending to his work and when his wife calls breakfast, he responds promptly and if he does not eat 3 heppings of meat plate full fried potatoes, 3 slices bread (cut thick), half pie (not certified skimmed milk) his wife worries and thinks he is ill. The farmer earns all he gets. Success has come his way, through self denial, hard and knocks, economy and knowledge which he has obtained by being interested in his noble work. When his days work is to be done he goes to rest and sleeps like a child, his conscience is clear. He has learned the farming game and won.

The Travelers' club opened its program Monday afternoon with a paper on Australian Agriculture by Mrs. Pierson. Parts of Australia have far richer soil than Florida, she said, having bountiful harvests and wonderful opportunities for orchardists. The second paper of the afternoon was given by

Miss McCune on San Antonio, a city of lovely parks and old cathedrals.
Mrs. E. E. Hopkins conducted the current events for the afternoon, calling on different members for the events of the day. At the business meeting held after the program, Mrs. George Reece was made president of the club and Mrs. Pierson treasurer.

kins spent Monday with Mrs. Winifred Thornton of West Broadway.

Mrs. C. D. Conns was hostess last evening to the Mothers' club. There was an unusually large attendance and much interest shown in the meeting.
The vice president, Mrs. Wely, turned over the work to the new officers, Mrs.
Lewis, the new president, then took the chair. Mrs. John Palmer read an interesting paper on "Children's Prayers" and Rev. Mr. Huff spoke on "Unfolding Life," dealing especially with religious training in the home.

Talks brought forth much discussion and many questions were asked of Rev.
Mr. Huff. At the conclusion of the program the hostess served light refreshments.

John Hahrd of Newark, fire marshal
for this district, was in Granville yesterday afternoon looking over the scene of our recent fires and investigating the cause.

NEWTON BEATS SERRA.

Lima, Jan. 25.—Johnnie Newton of Mansfield, gave Joe Serra, of Columbus, a fierce beating in a 12-round bout here last night. Don Baxter, Lima, outpointed Homer Thomas, Columbus, in a 10-round semi-final.

WITH STOMACH TROUBLE, THEN
HE TRIED EARLE'S HYPO-COD

TROUBLES TO USE IT

IT BROUGHT RESULTS IN VERY SHORT TIME

"I suffered from stomach and bowel trouble for over three years, have doctered and tried most everything anyone recommended, but of no avail."
"My symptoms were, I had severe pains in my side and lower part of stomach and bowels, caused from indigestion and gas formation. I could not sleep and had lost fifty pounds in weight in a very short time."

"I live in East Palestine, Ohio, but came to Columbus for the winter and before I left home a friend advised me to try some kind of a tonic to build me up, so I bought Hypo-Cod because I saw it advertised in the local paper and noticed a change in a very short time."

I have now taken four bottles and feel very much better. The pain in my side is almost gone. I can sleep alright and have gained in weight.

"I now recommend Hypo-Cod because it has done me a lot of good and will keep on taking it until I am well again.
I would advise anyone suffering from stomach or bowel trouble to try it," declared Mr. M. W. Beyer, (a retired banker), living at East Palestine, O.

The statements of many people have been published. To print all that any of them say requires too much space.
Read between the lines. Telephone or call upon them if you are skeptical.
Write and enclose a stamped envelope for reply. Or better still—just go down to the drug store and buy a bottle or two. Results speak louder than words.

The druggists of the country wouldn't be so loud in their praise if it wasn't the best made. (Read formula on bottle).
Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns.

WINTER EGGS AS EASY TO PRODUCE
AS SUMMER EGGS

It is knowing what to feed
your hens that counts when you want to get eggs. In the first place the hen must have in her ration everything that is found in the egg. In the summer she lays because she gets this variety.
Red Comb Egg Mash containing Dried Buttermilk is built upon these basic facts, furnishes the hen with every needed ingredient a chemical analysis of the egg shows it to contain. Getting eggs in the winter is only a question of proper maturity of the pullets and Red Comb Egg Mash will do the rest.

GARO WOMEN KIDNAP HUBBY When They Are Ready For Marriage They Drag Him Away—Wealthy Women Hire Husbands.

New York, Jan. 25.—Every year is a leap year among the Garo women in Assam, writes a missionary to the American Baptist Mission society. "Among those who have not been Christianized the wife takes the initiative in marriage," he says. "She goes to fetch the bridegroom, and it is etiquette for him to hide and resist until victoriously carried off. Occasionally a man may get his wife by capture, but usually it is the woman who kidnaps him; that is to say, her male friends do it for her. One may still see such press-gangs bringing home their spoil. In the early days, the missionaries were inclined to rush to the rescue, thinking that violence was being committed, such is the noise made by the struggling youth. The reluctance and resistance, though, are seldom as real as they sound. If the youth dislikes the match, there is rarely any redress. "Women of means are allowed to choose a temporary husband and when tired of him, pay him off, and take another."

Chicago Grain Review. Chicago, Jan. 25.—Foreign selling had a bearish effect today on the wheat market. Talk was current that the British royal commission would be out of the market until March 4. Hope that buying orders from other countries would be placed today tend, however to check declines. Opening prices which varied from a half to 1-4 lower with March 1.70 to 1.70 1-4 and May 1.60 to 1.60 1-4 were followed by a moderate further setback and then something of a rally.

Corn received with wheat notwithstanding that arrival of corn showed a big falling off in quantity. After opening unchanged to half cent lower, including May at 68 7-8 to 69, the market underwent a general sag.

Oats were easier as a result of the weakness of other grain, starting unchanged to a quarter cent higher, May 44 5-8 to 44 3-4 but soon turning down again.

Provisions showed lack of support.

Wall Street. New York, Jan. 25.—Local traction were the outstanding features at the irregular opening of today's stock market. That group gained from half cent to 1-2 points on Governor Miller's proposal to unify the city's transit systems on adequate fare basis.

VIENNA SETS NEW STRIKE RECORD

More Than 927 Were Called During 1921 — Government Printers Latest To Walk Out.

Vienna, Jan. 25.—Vienna set what is probably a new record for strikes in the year just ended. There were 927 of them in this, partial or complete, wild or organized.

Eight of them were carried over into the new year, having taken in the closing week of 1920. The most recent of the strikes included employees of government printing plants, workers at the mint, actors and orchestra members of the national theaters, railway employees, women's tailors, dentists' assistants, city employees and the gold and silversmiths.

Of all the strikes which Vienna has experienced in the last 12 months not one lacked the floodgates of indignation in the street and newspapers as did the closing of the coffee houses for five days, as the result of a demand for increased pay on the part of the employees. The Vienna coffee house means vastly more to the residents of Vienna than the club means to the average American or Englishman.

There are thousands of Viennese who transact most of their business in the coffee houses, though they have offices and staffs of clerks. Germans say that the Austrian's passion for sitting in the coffee house all day accounts for the fact that he had before the war but a small share of the world's foreign trade.

There are several reasons for this coffee house habit. One is that the Viennese goes there to rest, and most of them appear to have been born tired. He also grudges himself the price of a newspaper, but in the coffee house he obtains free the privilege of reading nearly every Austrian newspaper, besides the illustrated weeklies and monthlies. In the course of time he acquires the privilege of occupying a table before one of the spacious windows for which the Vienna coffee houses are renowned, and whence he may watch the procession of women passing.

JUDGMENT CORRECT SAYS NEWARK MAN

No more stomach trouble, biliousness,
backache or nervousness,
since I took Dreco.

"My judgment proved correct when I decided to take Dreco, for I've gotten rid of my troubles and feel fine these days," said Mr. L. F. Love, a well known and highly esteemed citizen who lives at 109 Burt Ave., Newark, Ohio.

"I'm no longer bothered by that sour gas in my stomach or the griping pains. My liver has been worked off which put a stop to dizziness and headaches. My kidneys have been strengthened and I never have a backache any more, nor aching joints. I have a good appetite, my tongue has cleared off, my nerves are steady and my sleep is peaceful. I go about my work in good cheer and giving thanks to Dreco for the great good it has done my system."

Dreco, the vegetable remedy acts on the vital organs toning them up so they perform their full duty as Nature demands. Dreco is pleasant to take and prompt to act.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Evans' Cut Rate Drug Store in Newark, Ohio, and sold by all druggists.

BEAUTY SPECIALIST TELLS SECRET

A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made
Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair:

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 4 ounces of glycerine.

These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Adv.

AUDITOR URGES RE-APPRAISEMENT

Licking County Official Declares Property in Other Counties is Undervalued While This County Has High Valuation.

County Auditor Fred S. Wilson in a letter to the state tax commission today urges the re-appraisal of the county's order for the assessment of the property in the state which have not had an appraisal since 1910. Licking county is one of the 27 counties in the state which have been appraised since that time and Mr. Wilson states that the following reasons why he thinks it unfair if the rest of the counties of the state do not follow the lead of the 27.

Real and personal property should be taxed at a uniform rate money, merchandise, manufactures, are all taxed at their full value and the real estate in all counties should be appraised and taxed according to uniform rule.

Per capita tax value of real and personal property in Licking county is $2,000. In counties where the assessed value of the real estate is little above 50 per cent of the actual value of the land, local residents are required to pay an unjust portion of taxes. Taxes for the state from the county are now $2.14 on each $1,000 valuation.

In regard to the contention of the grangers and the farm bureaus that re-appraisal at the present time would be discrimination against rural property Mr. Wilson states that agricultural property is taxed for real purposes but that all of the money goes outside of the county to the state, a direct benefit to the county.

PRINCE LATE TO MEAL DAD PUNISHES HIM

London, Jan. 25.—King Haakon of Norway, who arrived in England recently with Prince Olaf, for a visit to Sandringham, is a stickler for punctuality.

While aboard the steamer Rollo, Prince Olaf appeared at the breakfast table ten minutes late. After the meal he was told by the king that he must stay in his room for an hour as punishment, says the Daily News correspondent.

FORMER LICKING COUNTY MAN DIES IN CAPITAL

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of John R. Dier, 1824 Bryant road, Columbus, for Henry M. Jackson, president of the Jackson-Galan Violin company, 165 West Main street, Columbus.

Mr. Jackson died Sunday night at Grant Hospital from apoplexy with which he was stricken on January 14. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

Mr. Jackson was born in Johnstown and at one time operated a grocery in Granville. He was a member of Central Star lodge, No. 11, F. and A. M. He was well known over central Ohio, having traveled for a wholesale grocery concern of Columbus.

The violin factory of which Mr. Jackson was a member of the firm, is said to be the largest factory of its kind in the world. Between three and four thousand violins, most of them of exceptionally high grade, are turned out each month.

Besides being a Mason Mr. Jackson was a member of the Kiwanis club. The body will be taken to Cleveland for burial.

SLEEPING SICKNESS TALE "BUSTED" BY DOCTOR

Miss Dorothy Shrock, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shrock of 173 North Fourth street, is suffering from chronic St. Vitus dance.

The report that she has been ill with sleeping sickness is denied by the attending physician, Dr. W. E. Sarant, on Saturday, January 8, after witnessing an atrocious accident in North Fourth street, she fainted and has been ill since that time.

According to the physician, the physical case was delirious for a few days and delirium was given to quiet her and these have a tendency to produce drowsiness. She knows all the family and is not when questioned, and is not a feeble-minded person.

Her condition is improving now, and no out of town physicians have been called in consultation on the case.

ONLY 7 MINISTERS IN PIKE COUNTY

Population of 14,000 Is Served by Small Number of Preachers—Eighteen Churches Abandoned.

Columbus, Jan. 25.—A county with only seven ministers to meet the religious needs of its 14,000 people, with one person in six affiliated with any church, with its best paid minister receiving $1,500 a year and free house rent, with only five of its 89 churches averaging as much as one service a week, with more than one-half of its numerous churches having fewer than 25 members each, with 18 abandoned churches—that is a picture of Pike county, as revealed in a survey just completed by the Ohio Federation of churches.

The field work of the survey was hurried to completion and findings now are being summarized in order that they may be presented to the conference of state denominational leaders to be held here January 31 and February 1 and 2.

Rev. R. F. Lamb, secretary of the church federation, said, "Nearly all other counties also will be studied at this meeting on the basis of church survey findings. Efforts will be made in each case to plan interdenominational action to improve conditions."

"Deploable church conditions in Pike county have given the county wide notoriety in religious circles for years," said Mr. Lamb today, in giving out a partial report of the findings of his survey. "For this reason, it was decided that the first task undertaken by the Ohio Federation of Churches this year should be the solution of the Pike county problem. This county's survey report will be taken up first at the state conference of church leaders at the end of the month. It is hoped to formulate an interdenominational program to provide adequate religious leadership for Pike county, found to be so badly needed in large sections of the county."

"Under adequate leadership, the church can become a real force in community life in Pike county. The task the churches face in this county is a formidable one, but the churches of Ohio can undoubtedly master it by united action."

Growth of a highly emotional type of church—the type sometimes known as "holiness"—was found to be an important recent development in Pike county. This, according to Secretary Lamb, especially notable in the three-fifths of the county lying west of the Scioto river, in which area there is only one resident pastor.

Church leaders say the multiplicity of small churches in Pike county is significant in view of the national finding that only the church with 100 members or more has better than an even chance of survival. Only three Pike county churches are more than 100 members and no other have no enrollment or less than 25 members each.

The churches of the county list 2,312 members in its population of 14,101. The survey disclosed. Large circuits are necessitated by the many churches, one minister having six churches in his charge, another five and another four. No pastor devotes his full time to one church. Sixteen Protestant denominations are represented in the county. There is one Roman Catholic church.

Twenty-seven churches have Sunday services every two weeks 14, every two weeks and only five every week.

OPENS HOUSE TO MAKE ALL HAPPY

Cleveland Woman Adopts Novel Plan To Carry Out Her Philosophy—Events Held Each Week.

Cleveland, Jan. 25.—Acting on the philosophy that "to be happy and to make others happy," Mrs. Myrtle Perkins Swingle maintains "open house" in her home to the public every Tuesday night.

"The objects of these gatherings," Mrs. Swingle said, "are primarily constructive and will, in a small way, help to overcome prejudice and spread the ideals of friendship and good will. There is nothing to join; no dues to pay. The admission price is one smile and they all pay it cheerfully."

The idea started, Mrs. Swingle explained, when several young men whom she met at her home complained of getting lonely.

"I went out and invited all my neighbors and friends in to spend the evening," she continued. "We had a fine time. 'But why,' I asked myself, 'should we hoard our own selfishly? We ought to let everybody in.'"

"The Tuesday night was invited everybody who wanted to come. I consider my home is merely mine to hold in trust for a little while. And while I have it, I will use it to help brighten the lives of others."

Mrs. Swingle assisted in entertaining by her daughters, Eva Mae, 20, and Mildred, 17. One hour is set aside for discussion of some topic, after which piano playing, singing and dancing is indulged in.

Mrs. Swingle announced that several other Cleveland women, influenced by her example, are preparing to do likewise.

Zanesville: A wrist watch swallowed by Sadie Niel, 16, of Crooksville, was still ticking when removed from her stomach by surgeons here.

TOXIC SMOKE IS NEW WAR DEVICE

Produces Intense Cloud of Vapor Which Will Penetrate Most Gas Masks Used In World War.

Philadelphia, Jan. 25.—Toxic smoke candles, recently developed, will have an extensive use in future wars, in the opinion of L. L. Shaw, of the Internal Bureau of Mines, who recently spoke on "Smoke and Incendiary Material" before the Franklin Institute.

"Smoke candles," so called, he said, are small cylindrical boxes which are ignited by some sort of friction device and which contain smoke-producing mixtures. Their use is in setting up a smoke screen close at hand, for after ignition they are simply set on the ground, not being thrown or projected in any way. The need is very apparent to make the movements of small groups of men close at hand possible.

The British, early in the war, developed very satisfactory smoke candles which were used by all the allies. The Americans also developed a candle which was satisfactory, but which did not get into production and use in France before the armistice.

The smoke is normally white, must have maximum capacity and be cool enough to prevent the setting up of air currents and thus rise from the ground. It must be heavy so as to be displaced by the minimum amount of wind of low velocity. These requirements are admirably met by candles which produce a smoke consisting of zinc chloride.

"As regards the future of incendiary material, my own opinion, which opinion, however, is substantiated by at least some of the military circles, is that incendiary material, except for small arms and long range shells and drop bombs will have at least a very limited and perhaps, no use. The flame projectors will probably never be used in a future war. Smoke material, on the other hand, will have a very extensive and ever-increasing use.

By the use of the smoke screen during an attack the casualties can be largely reduced."

"There was in progress of development by the British and Americans during the latter part of the war, smoke candles which would give a toxic smoke. The toxic material employed was diphenylchlorarsine. Diphenylchlorarsine is a solid which vaporizes in the heat of the candle and is obtained in such a state of division that it will penetrate almost any mask. Such toxic smoke, if used in a future war, would be a development, will find a very extensive use in the future. It is the greatest step made thus far in the new use of smoke."
